SALT LAKE, Feb. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Lord Decies rode
the cab today for most of the trip to the Bingham mining camp
and return, and for several miles each way he held the throttle at the engine, drawing a special car in which Lady Decies, Mr. and Mrs. O. B.
Huntman and others of the party rode. The titled Englishman "threw the Johnson bar over" and "opened her wide" as the train climbed the hill into the camp where Lopez, the Mexican bandit, evaded an array of deputies a few weeks ago, and again
from the Garfield smelters to Salt Lake, a distance of fifteen miles, he occupied the cab. He said it was not his first experience with a locomotive,
but it was his maiden experience with a big American engine, which he thought were built on much better lines than the English.

Tom Lamplow, the engineer with whom Lord Decies made the trip,
said his wife's mobility is all right.
"Why, she's a regular fellow and a sport, too," said the engineer. "There's nothing struck up about him and when he asks questions he talks sense, too."
Lady Decies showed particular interest in the story of the pursuit of Lopez, the Mexican bandit, and when pressed for an interview on the subject of going "hunting" for Lopez, she said: "I will write descriptions of some of my dresses for you."
Here is what she wrote: "I wore a black broadcloth suit Tuesday morning and afternoon. I also wore black fox fur. My hat was a simple plain light velvet thing with a maiden feather plume."
Tuesday evening and at the theater I wore a black taffeta dress with a plain black hat.
This morning I wore a purple
tweed skirt, a cream silk sailor waist and a purple sateen. My hat was purple velvet, close fitting, carrying a spray of snow berries."

DENY SHERIDAN

OFFICIALS DECLARE.

Name of the American General Is Not Even Mentioned in the Government Report of the Battle.
Legend About His Advice to Bismarck Declared Untrue.

(BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
BERLIN, Feb. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Statements made in America from time to time that Gen.
Philip H. Sheridan materially helped Gravelotte by giving advice at critical moments to Bismarck, who in turn notified Molke of Sheridan's suggestions, are not given the slightest credence in official German circles. The correspondent, through the courtesy of Dr. K. O. Berling, director of the "Amerika Institut" in Berlin, was enabled to obtain the information from general staff sources that Gen. Sheridan is not even mentioned in the official report of the battle. While this fact alone does not prove that the legend respecting Sheridan is unfounded, the story of the battle itself apparently provides the proof.
The battle of Gravelotte was fought four days after the engagement at Colmar, west of Metz, after which the French forces could not be freed, by the German army, that would be impossible at the present time, because of the use of aeroplanes.

If Gen. Sheridan had given the advice to look for the French in front of Metz, where they afterwards proved to be, Molke would not have followed it, as it is good tactics for a general to expect his opponent to retreat after a decisive defeat instead of forming for another engagement.

Illinois Doctor Learns that the $700 He Gave Man About to Leave for Australia Twenty Years Ago Was Remembered by Him in His Will.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. E. S. Higley, Glen Ellyn, Ill., is busy today trying to figure
the rate of interest that he is to be paid on a loan of $700, made twenty years ago, and which he learned a few days ago, would come back to him in a lump sum of $1,500,000.
About twenty years ago Dr. Higley befriended a man named Charles Froelich, who needed some money,
and Dr. Higley generously divided his savings with him. Froelich went to Australia and all trace of him was lost. Recently Dr. Higley received word that he had been left about $1-500,000 by Froelich. The matter is being looked after by attorneys in London.
"It is true," said Mrs. Higley, "that my husband has inherited a large sum. It is said to be $1,500,000. We heard of it recently and, of course, began an investigation. We heard that the only reason Mr. Higley has not received the money is because there are two women in England
who claim to be sisters of the dead man, and are making a fight for his fortune. We expect to hear almost any minute that the case has been settled."

plunge through a wall of flames in her home at Long Branch, near Tacoma, to rescue her two baby daughters while they were taking their nap

Mrs. Yope died tonight. Physicians say the youngest child, aged 11 months, cannot live.

Organization Formed in New York to Obviate the Enormous Annual Loss in United States.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—The organization was announced here today of the American Society for Fire Prevention, with the object of carrying out "an aggressive and militant campaign for fire prevention into all parts of the United States."
The society places the annual fire loss in the United States at more than $200,000,000, irrespective of the loss of business and wages, which is estimated at $500,000,000.
"Fully 75 per cent. of the losses,"
says an announcement, "are due non-compliance with, or non-enforcement of the most ordinary principles of fire prevention. Ninety per cent.
of all the fires are unnecessary."
Prominent engineers, architects,
union-labor leaders and social service
workers are named among the supporters and officers of the organization.

BY LOU GUERNEY.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] San Diego is abashed with the spirit of true Republicanism. This pulsating city by the sea, always found on the same and sound side, is alive with stalwart Republicans, armed to the teeth and looking for renegades. The Grand Old Party hosts are jubilant, yes, intumescent,
with pride, for they are leading the so-called Progressives, six to one in registration—11,197 to 1745. The Johnson job-holders have thrown up the sponge. The Democrats, unorganized, torn by internal strife, are leading the third-termers two to one.
San Diego is the banner Republican county of the State and the men of action at the helm here may it will continue to hold that enviable position until Johnson and his "aster-mates" are buried under an avalanche
of ballots by an outraged citizenry.
The re-awakening, say the party leaders, has only just begun. They expect the force that sprang into new being at Santa Barbara to sweep the State with gathering strength until it has out the last vestige of chicanery in politics, hysteria in government and fraud in administration, restoring once more to a sound, substantial footing the sanctified altars of the Old Guard. The movement will grow, because it has the united support and sympathy of a great body of men of common sense and action, spurred by a people no longer tolerant of present administrative conditions in California.

Some voters now enrolled here as Republicans were led astray from party of Lincoln by clamor and the delusive promises of Johnson. They admit it with bowed heads. Others, temporarily deceived by fanciful freaks, are returning in droves of their own volition and refuse to be driven or coerced by free tango lessons.
They remember what Lincoln said about fooling the people "all of the time." If the present ratio is maintained, San Diego county will roll up a 30,000 majority for the Republican ticket next November. One thing is certain. Johnson will be third when the votes are counted. Not only San Diego, but Orange, Riverside, San Bernardine and Imperial counties, comprising the Eleventh Congressional District, are showing wonderful Republican gains in registration.

REGISTRATION.

The following is the total registered vote to date in this district: Republican, 23,313; Democrats, 3234; "Progressives," 641.

YOUNG MEN AT WORK.

The "Progressives" are losing ground daily in these counties. The young men and women of San Diego
are partly responsible for the staggering Republican figures. The clean-cut, energetic young followers of the G.O.P. firmly believe that the Republican party at this time is more capable of being molded by the young men and women of the country into a powerful instrument for patriotic government than at any time for a decade.

The Young Men's Republican Club
of San Diego, organized two weeks ago, already has a membership of over 1000 of the most prominent young men of the city. E. L. Devin, a Deputy District Attorney, is the president. Tomorrow night the club will celebrate Lincoln's Birthday with a banquet at the Hotel San Diego. Samuel H. Shortridge, candidate for United States Senator, will deliver the principal address, on "Republicanism."
Charles A. McGee, an orator of national reputation, will speak on "Lincoln" and Robert E. Hamilton will compare the standards of the Lincoln Republicans and the "Progressives."
President Devin will officiate as toastmaster.

In the afternoon Shortridge will address the Young Women's Republican Club at the Grant Hotel. San Diego intends to pay a fitting tribute to the greatest Republican of all time. Republicans from every part of the State
California will be in attendance.

Wright Says Trans-Atlantic Flight Is Foolhardy.
Thinks Present Engines Are Not Strong Enough.
Declares Continuous Strain Cannot Be Overcome.

San Diego, told Mrs. Christofferson by long distance telephone tonight from Bakersfield that he would take the next train for home for the purpose of getting a stronger engine for his biplane. The aviator's second attempt to cross Tejon Pass convinced him that his engine was not sufficiently powerful to accomplish the most difficult part of his aerial journey. He told Mrs. Christofferson he would remain here only long enough to test out the stronger engine and return to Bakersfield, where he has stored his biplane.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(By A. P. Night wire to the Times.)—A trans-Atlantic trip in an aeroplane is at the present time impracticable. "It would be foolhardy for an aviator to try this trip with the engine now used in aeroplanes," said Orville Wright, one of the pioneer builders of "heavier-than-air" machines, answered questions today as to whether he would enter the lists with other aviators who declare they will try a trip across the Atlantic in their machines.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(By A. P. Night wire to the Times.)—The machines as they are now built have not the staying powers required for a voyage of this length, and under no circumstances will the engines hold out under the continuous strain of such a journey. "Efforts have been made to cover the same distance on land and have failed, and while necessarily may force many things, it will not bolster up a weak engine when once the let-down comes," said Wright.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN
"He was not small in anything. He was carved in deep lines, like all heroic figures, for dangerous altitudes and great purposes. And as we move away from him and years and events pass between us, his form will still be visible and distinct, for such characters, built upon courage and faith and that affection which is the seed of both, are not playthings, but masters of Time."
—Frank S. Black.

THE STORE WITH A CONSCIENCE.
When you think of Abraham Lincoln you think of truth, kindness and steadfast sincerity—right for right's sake.

A conscience that stood and heard above the crash and fury of war, above the glamorous pretense, a FREEDOM that would prevail against slavery.

There are many kinds of slavery.

The "Store with a Conscience" we want thought of in the same worth-while lasting way; a concern that abhors superlatives, fraudulent merchandising or advertising tactics that betray men, hinder savings from their wives and take advantages from their children.

Right moves slowly, but prevails and Right Basic Ideals are good enough for us, just as they should be for every Business, Nation, or Individual.

VERONICA WATER
Health's Missionary

Has done more real good for the human race than all the drugs that were ever compounded.

Clean Out and Clean Up

Why We Can Guarantee VERONICA WATER

WE KNOW that nine-tenths of the diseases which the human race is suffering today are due, primarily, to overloading the stomach and not properly chewing the food, which causes fermentation of acids, and gases lodging in the lining of the intestine and being absorbed into the system, which creates acid formation, causing all kinds of trouble—first in the stomach, then the liver, then the kidneys.

WE KNOW from the analysis of Veronica Water, made by the United States Government, that it is an Anti-Acid and will dissolve and expel the CAUSE OF DISEASE without griping and weakening (which no other drug compounded was ever known to do.) If you want to cure any disease you must.

REMOVE THE CAUSE. The deeper you go into the system the thicker it gets, until the natural action of the intestine is lost. Compare your system to an upright boiler. You can see the flues corrode and the firebox fill with scales—just so the system. Clean it out.

WE BELIEVE God Almighty made the human system perfect, and if we studied its laws and gave it the attention we do to any piece of machinery it would work all right.

OUR GUARANTEE TO YOU Success on the Eastern market, and from the experience and RESULTS produced for the suffering, we are prepared to put a case in your hands on TEN DAYS' TRIAL, FREE, and if it does not give you better results than all the remedies you ever used—AND YOU TO BE THE JUDGE—there will be no charge for water used. The names you know the disease by are merely the symptoms. We do not care what name you give it, if you want to cure it, YOU MUST REMOVE THE CAUSE, whether it is:

STOMACH OR LIVER, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Water Brash, Heartburn, Gastritis, HEART TROUBLE, or Malaria, etc.

KIDNEY OR BLADDER, Rheumatism, Syphilis, Dropsy, or any other name you are pleased to call it. We don't ask you to drop it—you get RESULTS first.

NO, VERONICA IS NOT A CURE-ALL. We make no such claim, but, from the testimonials we have received, the people make it so. The only claim we make is that "it will dissolve the corrupt particles, dissolve and expel them from the system WITHOUT griping or weakening." This action purifies the blood and thus permanently relieves. What pure blood does not do, can't be done by drugs.

Decision at San Francisco Caused by Dispute Whether Woman Who Administered Spiritual Consolation to Sick Person Should Be Allowed $200 for Her Services.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judge Hunt decided today that a practitioner who administers mental and spiritual consolation to a sick person is as much entitled to compensation as one who administers medicines or takes care of their physical needs only.

The point was raised during the trial of the case of Caroline Zuesler against Walter Haas of Haas brothers. The suit is for $200 damages for personal injuries. The plaintiff, having been struck by the defendant's automobile several months ago near the corner of Scott and Sutter streets, was confined to her bed for several weeks. Haas testified that he was forced to run his machine on the sidewalk to avoid killing a boy on a bicycle, and that the plaintiff's injuries were, therefore, due to the carelessness of the boy, Catherine Braidwood took care of the plaintiff for 140 days and it was suggested that she should be allowed $200 for her services. There was some dispute over this between the attorneys, for the reason that a nurse used mental methods chiefly. The case went over until Monday, when the board has instructed Dr. Donald H. Currie, its secretary, to refuse the information on the ground that it was gathered under the cold storage law and therefore is a public document. The board has instructed Dr. Donald H. Currie, its secretary, to refuse the information, thus forming the basis for a test suit in the courts.

A PUBLIC DOCUMENT. Los Angeles Firm Insists State Board of Health Publish Facts Obtained by Cold Storage Law.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SACRAMENTO, Feb. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State Board of Health to furnish the amount of products in cold storage will be tested in the courts, for the board has refused to furnish this information to the Klein-Simpson Fruit Company of Los Angeles. The company demanded this information on the ground that it was gathered under the cold storage law and therefore is a public document. The board has instructed Dr. Donald H. DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoonful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion; also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

A Bottle a Dose; A Dose Relieves

Not Necessary to Take Fruitful Endlessly—A Dose Shows Results.

A serious situation requires a positive remedy, and it is so with the various ailments that afflict mankind. In cases of that peculiar form of liver trouble known as biliary colic, where hardened bile forms into stones in the gall bladder, and fearful pains start at the margin of the ribs on the right side and extend down the shoulders and the entire abdomen, it is useless to rub on liniments or to take laxatives, purgatives or "liver remedies," as they do not reach the cause of the trouble.

What is needed is the California medicine, Fruitful, which is especially recommended for these symptoms. A case in point is that of Mrs. Ella E.

ECUADOR TROOPS RETAKE CITY OF ESMERALDAS.

Boats and Heavy Artillery Bombard the City Simultaneously, Setting Fire to It Several Times Before the Force of Three Thousand Men Enters—Foreigners Are Said to Be Safe.

(BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.)

GUAYACIL (Ecuador) Feb. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Esmeraldas, capital of the province of Esmeraldas, which has been in the hands of the revolutionists since December 15, was bombarded yesterday by government boats and heavy artillery, and according to the latest advices was recaptured by government forces.

The attacking force numbered 3000. Five small gunboats were in the harbor and opened on the city simultaneously with the field artillery. Shells set fire to the town in several sections and at one time it was in danger of being destroyed.

Before the attack began Col. Carlos Concha, the rebel leader, was notified of the government's intention to bombard, but declined to agree to the terms of the government. He said that his men might be reasonably safe, or to permit foreigners to embark on the steamers in the harbor. While details are lacking, it is known that the city was subjected to an extremely heavy bombardment, the shells falling for the safety of foreign residents and other noncombatants.

LETTS DEFENDS STORE GIRLS.

ACCUSATIONS OF IMMORALITY DECLARED FALSE.

Los Angeles Merchant Discusses the Condition of Employees in an Address at New York—Says the New Labor Laws Should Be Supported.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Arthur Letts, president and owner of Bullock's department store and the Broadway department store of Los Angeles, delivered before the National Retail Dry Goods Association here yesterday an address on "The Progressive Merchant." He discussed the new and "draconian" laws governing the relations of employer and employee, the minimum wage for women, the eight-hour law, workman's compensation, etc. He declared it was the duty of every merchant to support these measures.

He said that the "progressive merchant" possessed "a soul that is above the dollar mark." "The progressive merchant is he who has a deep interest in his employees," said Letts. "He gives the best salary, the best conditions, the best food at the lowest cost to his employees in their lunchroom. He believes in the dignity of his employees. He has welfare workers in his establishment. He protects his female employees. He does not pay women less than men for the same work. He encourages shorter hours of labor; he encourages a profit-sharing plan. In consequence, he has the loyalty of his employees and possesses a soul that is above the dollar mark."

Referring to the minimum wage for women, Letts said it had come and every merchant would have to meet it, and should meet it in a spirit of mutual concession. With the minimum wage there would be no injustice and no advantage taken, he said, and while hitherto the law of supply and demand had fixed the wage schedule, henceforth it will be fixed by the government. "If the wage is increased, the purchaser is the one who will pay."

The California merchant spiritedly denounced the idea that wages and work in the department stores are instrumental in causing immorality among the female employees.

"Much has been written in magazines and newspapers about the immorality of female workers in department stores," he said. "After twenty years as head of a department store employing several thousand, I desire to raise my voice against the unwarranted statements which have been made. They are false. From my experience the wage question has little to do with the morals of women. I should feel ashamed as an American citizen if I thought the women of my country, the future mothers of our nation, would sell their virtue for a few dollars a week. I want to say from my personal knowledge that there is no finer class of women in the nation than those working in department stores."

LABOR. DECLARES GUNS WERE NEEDED.

Laborite Admits that They Were Not Stolen.

Tells Committee Strikers Had to Defend Themselves.

DENVER, Feb. 11.—"I told Sheriff Grisham of Las Animas county that we didn't want any of his kind of protection; that we'd make up our minds to protect ourselves. And we did it."

This was the statement of John R. Lawson, leader of the Colorado miners in their strike, when on cross-examination late today before the House investigating committee. He was describing the stormy events in the southern coal camps before the arrival of State troops. The labor leader had told of instances in which he said he had asked the sheriff for protection for the strikers' tent colonies, but in vain. Finally, he said, after one of the battles between mine guards and strikers, protection was offered, but refused.

Lawson told of ordering tents from West Virginia and of buying bedding, clothing and food.

"Did you buy any guns?" asked Judge James G. Northcutt of counsel for the operators.

"Not at that time. Some guns were bought later to protect lives and property."

"A grand jury is now in session in Las Animas county, gentlemen," he said. "This grand jury seems very desirous of indicting us. For this reason, unless the committee insists, I'd rather not go very far into this gun business. I will say that there were some guns bought, but not until after the operators had imported machine guns."

Chairman Foster was not ready to drop the inquiry into the purchase of arms.

"The witness can refuse to answer any question that might incriminate him," he ruled, "but the committee wants the facts."

"When did you buy the first gun?" persisted Judge Northcutt.

"Not until after the second battle of Ludlow."

The labor chief then was questioned regarding the disarmament of the Ludlow tent colony.

"How many guns did you collect for the State troops?"

"I collected eleven guns and one popgun."

"That was not all the guns the strikers had, was it?"

"I don't know that there was any other gun in the colony at that time. More were brought in later."

"Your organization is defending ten men now in jail on charges of murdering four guards near La Veta, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"You think those people, guilty or innocent, are entitled to the protection of your organization?"

"Yes, I think every man is entitled to protection."

James Brewster, for the miners, conducted the redirect examination. Then Lawson was accused.

TIFF OVER AUTHORITY. Conflict between Federal and State authority loomed large ahead of the committee just before the Denver hearing. C. H. Newell, a Denver newspaper editor, was called to the stand by the miners. The very first question made it clear he was ready to testify regarding conversations he had had with Gov. Ammons with a view to showing the governor's alleged attitude toward Mother Jones.

Counsel for the operators immediately entered a protest against the testimony in the absence of the governor. An executive conference was held and Chairman Foster announced that the witness would go to the stand again and that the governor would be notified in order that he might be present if he so desired.

At the opening of the afternoon session it was announced that Gov. Ammons was indisposed, but that a copy of his testimony would be made available to the committee.

Newell told of a conversation he had had with Gov. Ammons, in which he declared the executive expressed his opinion that the miners were striking zone of the southern coal field were due primarily to incendiary speeches by Mother Jones.

John Weinberg, a striker from the Ludlow colony, told of being stopped by a guard at the gate of the Hastings mine when he attempted to enter the postoffice.

While Foreman of the mine several years ago, he testified that he was told by the superintendent of the mine company would be reimbursed for "dead work" by cheating the miners in weighing coal.

On cross-examination, he said he had not dared say anything about the stealing of coal when he was foreman at the Bowen.

"The men would have murdered me," he explained.

James Holmes, hardware dealer of Pueblo, was the first witness for the operators.

He told of the purchase of arms by a Walsenburg hardware firm for Adolph Germer, the latter selecting the weapons which were shipped to the Walsenburg concern. Fifty-eight rifles were thus purchased.

A CALIFORNIA HOMESITE

California is famous for the beauty of its scenery and the charm of its climate.

The two go hand in hand—scenic beauty, climatic charm.

But some people—generally strangers,—lose just one-half of this combination because they are in a new land, where conditions are unlike those in any other section of America or Europe.

California's magnificent scenery, her mountains, canyons and valleys, are as important as her fruit, flowers, and equable climate.

You are entitled to enjoy all her blessings.

The stranger who comes here from the east, is dazzled by the glorious sunshine, and he is apt to pitch his tent on the first vacant lot he sees, regardless of how it is situated.

But we contend that in such case he is robbing himself of half the joys of living in California.

We invite him out to Beverly Hills—the beautiful—where he may daily feast his eyes on the glories of the ever-changing mountains, the wide stretches of green valleys, and the placid blue waters of the Pacific—a panorama that never grows old and that is never twice the same.

This is the place for a California home.

Near the city and yet far enough away to escape the noise, dirt, heat and also the congestion which the apartment houses are bringing to what were once residential neighborhoods.

Look at Beverly Hills in One of Our Autos.

Consider the present and future of this exclusive homesite—where every lot has an individual charm.

You will then agree with us that here is California at its best—where you will get the full worth of your money.

Mr. Rowe, our Beverly Hills agent, will show you around. Large villa lots, 80x100 ft. front, $1700 up. Call him up and make an appointment—B. H. 569, 141.

Send or call for booklet "On the Road to Beverly Hills." It's free.

OUT FOR THE HIGH COURT.

Judge Lucien Shaw Announces His Candidacy—His Distinguished Services.

Judge Lucien Shaw returned to San Francisco yesterday. While here he announced that he had concluded to become a candidate for nomination and re-election to the office of Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of California. This announcement will be gratifying to the people of the State and particularly to Southern California. Judge Shaw is now the only member of the Supreme Court from Southern California. He rendered distinguished service as a judge of the Superior Court of Los Angeles county for fourteen years and has served over eleven years as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. The members of the Los Angeles County Bar, regardless of party affiliations, are generally favorable to Judge Shaw's candidacy on account of his distinguished merits and fine record.

Something immediately. Once the pressing need is out of the way, we can get busy on the other highways projected under this $18,000,000 bond issue.

It is not a sectional fight, but a fight for a need which will be recognized when easterners by the thousands come here in 1915 in automobiles and wish to travel from one to the other exposition city in their machines. There is also a pressing utilitarian need.

The proposition, in brief, is for the interested counties to absorb the $2,000,000 of bonds necessary to construct the highway and take a chance on their discounted sale to others. A representative of a bonding house, it is understood, will attend the convention and make an offer for the bonds. The amount of the discount is problematical, but, as many point out, the firmer tone of the bond market makes it probable that the discount will be even smaller than it should have been a few weeks ago. The difficulty of selling 4 1/2 per cent. bonds on a mortgage where 6 per cent. bonds are in vogue is recognized, however.

That the convention is in no sense an attempt to "stampede" anyone for the proposition is specifically set forth in the invitations being sent out. "We wish to emphasize," say the invitations, "that each Board of Supervisors at this convention will be acting individually and will be bound in no way by the action of any other board. The one and only object in view is that of bringing about the disposition of a sufficient number of these bonds to insure the building of at least one of the highways and the main lateral between the exposition cities before 1915, with a resulting benefit to the State which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents."

MEMORY OF THE EMANCIPATOR.

Lincoln Day to Be Marked by Public Schools.

Patriotic Exercises and a Half-Holiday.

Those Who Knew Him Will Tell of His Life.

Lincoln Day, commemorated in song and story, will be celebrated in the public schools this morning, and a half-holiday will be given this afternoon.

A patriotic enthusiasm marks the program to be given in the great state's honor, whose memory is to be kept green in youthful minds by the singing of the nation's anthems and the recital of the big man's deeds and sayings.

"Lincoln the Patriot" will be the subject of Col. J. J. Steadman's address at Polytechnic High School. Col. Steadman served in the Civil War as a drummer boy, and will recount many personal incidents connected with Lincoln's life and his relation to the army. National airs by glee club, chorus and orchestra will also commemorate the spirit of the nation's hero.

A one-time personal friend of Lincoln's, Senator C. H. Cole, will address Hollywood High School students on "The Life of Our Nation's Greatest Hero." Senator Cole possesses one of the three original copies now extant of the Emancipation Proclamation, which he will exhibit to the students following his address. Samuel Holsinger will recite the second inaugural address, and Stuart Watchorn will tell favorite stories of Lincoln. The school orchestra will play a medley of national airs, and all students will join in singing "America" at the close of the ceremonies.

NAMED IN HIS HONOR. Lincoln High School, named for the great President, will hold its first Lincoln Day celebration. Music, the singing of President Lincoln's favorite hymns by the boy choir, and airs by the orchestra will be an important part of the exercises, and Reynolds E. Blight, member of the Board of Education, will deliver an address.

Manual Arts High School and Los Angeles High School will listen to addresses by Frank G. Tyrrell, of Manual Arts High School, and will deliver the famous Gettysburg address, and the Boys' Glee Club will sing the nation's songs.

"Ideals of Lincoln's Boyhood" will be the subject of Supt. J. H. Francis' address at the Lincoln Day exercises. Mr. Francis, who is principal of the Lincoln school, where the new auditorium will be used for the first time.

A unique program is that to be given at Mickey Avenue Intermediate, where sixteen girls will give a flag drill, at the close of which they will form an arch displaying the national colors, while Miss Erine De Chaine sings, "Star Spangled Banner." Miss Edith Hodgkins, English teacher, will tell the story of the hero's life.

Logan street school is to be honored by listening to a speech given by childhood friend of Lincoln, Mr. R. Barrett, of Mariposa street. Mrs. Barrett will also display a dress which she bought in Lincoln's store in 1832, when she was a young girl.

Descendant of Lincoln History-Maker.

Mrs. Louise Hayward, Granddaughter of the man who "hung" the jury which tried an alleged accomplice in the assassination of President Lincoln. She met the man said to be the only surviving eye-witness of the great tragedy in this city yesterday.

ECHO OF FATAL SHOT IN DOUBLE LINK HERE.

ALTHOUGH nearly half a century has elapsed since the tragic death of President Lincoln, two persons directly connected with the stirring events that followed the firing of the fatal shot by Wilkes Booth met in this city yesterday. One of them, an eye witness to the assassination and the other a grand-daughter of the man who prevented the execution of John Surratt as an accessory.

That Surratt was not hanged was due to the unshaken belief of Columbus Alexander, that he was not guilty. Mrs. Louise R. Hayward, No. 129 South Virgil avenue, a grand-daughter of Alexander, says he was a man of strong convictions and indomitable fighting spirit. He was a direct descendant of the Earl of Sterling and a prominent member of the family for whom Alexandria, Va., was named.

Mrs. Hayward was married a few months ago to Lester Hayward, son of Dr. Henderson Hayward, capitalist. The latter, his son and daughter are "California All the Way."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO DINE 'MID TROPICS.

A MID TROPIC surroundings, members of the Chamber of Commerce will banquet, the 21st inst., at Shrine Auditorium. The final arrangement, stage setting and installations were made yesterday at the meeting of the board of directors, and a rehearsal of the program will be held next Tuesday.

No decision on the principal speaker has yet been made, though members of the committee having the selection in charge stated yesterday that he will be a man of national note. John Mott, a native son, is to be toastmaster. In addition, to the principal speaker, there will be two others in addition to the usual addresses by the incoming and outgoing presidents.

"California all the way" is to be the keynote of the banquet. Banana palms and citrus trees in tubs are to be used for the main decoration, while the tables will be decorated with native fruits and flowers, with strawberries growing on the vines. It is expected that 300 boxes of fruit will be used in decorating the tables. Chief of all will be a miniature model of the United States, with ships carrying different nationalities on their way to California.

CLAIRVOYANTS NEEDN'T APPLY.

New Express Rates as Simple as Rule of Three.

Traffic Man Makes and Proves His Case.

Lower Than the Parcel Post to Eastern Points.

You no longer have to be a clairvoyant, nor versed in differential calculus to determine an express rate, according to Traffic Manager Ford of Blake, Moffet & Towne, who yesterday completed an enlightening analysis of the new schedules promulgated by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the guidance of the express companies, on and after February 1.

"Into oblivion, with scarcely a ripple," says Ford, "has passed an arbitrary and intricate scheme of rates that has withstood for years the scathing denunciation of the press, the criticism of commercial organizations, and the efforts of legislative bodies to effect its downfall."

To find the rate, according to Ford's system, which is the common sense one, all you have to do is to look in the Territorial Directory—furnished by all express companies—get the block number, refer to a rate scale shown in the same publication, and the work is done.

Except for the color-blind, the task of determining "prepaid," and the like, is simplicity itself under the new system. If the package you receive is yellow, yellow is "prepaid," you pay no additional charges, even though the delivery man's book shows the shipment was not prepaid, the express company being compelled to adjust the mistake.

If "C.O.D.," a green label shows the name, while a white label shows that the consignee is to pay the charges when he receives the package.

The classifications have also been simplified. There are two large classes—articles of merchandise, which take first class rates, and articles of food and drink, which take a 25 per cent. lower rate.

Ford also shows conclusively by a comparison of the ten-pound rates of the express companies and the parcel post that there is not a great difference between the two, except that the express companies provide an automatic insurance up to $50 on every package, while the government charges 10 cents for a similar safeguarding.

"Furthermore," says Ford, "lost or strayed packages are much more easily traced by express than by mail and claims are paid under the new dispensations within six months by the express companies, while it is a matter of years under the old red tape of the postoffice in that time."

A comparison of ten-pound rates from Los Angeles to important cities shows: New York—express, $1.15, parcel post, $1.20; Baltimore—express, $1.15, parcel post, $1.20; Chicago—express $1.07, parcel post $1.01; Dayton—express $1.08, parcel post $1.20; Portland—express 66 cents, parcel post 62 cents; San Francisco—express 44 cents, parcel post 45 cents.

Tom Walton, Of Fresno, slated to be the new United States Marshal for this district.

FAT CROP FOR SNICKERSNEE.

NEW MARSHAL HELL MOW 'EM DOWN RIGHT AND LEFT.

Fresno Plum-Grabber to Have a Free Hand with the Deputies and a Lot of Them Will Be Out in the Cold World When Youngworth's Successor Starts In.

When Denver S. Church, the prime statesman from the Seventh California District, lands Tom Walton, deputy sheriff of Fresno county, in the job of United States Marshal, as indicated by the political seers in Washington, the lean and gaunt Democrats who have been waiting since yesterday for a chance at the public trough will have the disappointment of their lives. There will be an open sesame for their appointment, but in some instances the salary is hardly enough for coffee and cakes, to say nothing of a cold bottle and a hot bird, upon which they have been counting.

When President Wilson let down the civil service bars in the Marshal's office, three of the present employees of Marshal Youngworth, Chief Deputy Albert Sittel and Deputies George O. White and D. W. Griswold, were taken out of the classified list, so the new man will be given free hand in filling the subordinate places in the office.

All the employees are likely to feel the political knife at their jugulars in proper time, although the job of book-keeping in the office of Marshal is so complex that Chief Deputy Sittel is almost sure to hold on because he is the only man who understands it.

It is understood that United States District Judge Wellborn, who is a good Georgia Democrat and was fighting Republicans when Walton was chasing coyotes through the sage Sensational Charges Against Tufts's Prosecutor.

But Two-Hundred-Pounder Goes Back to Cell.

Charges of a sensational nature against Attorney Francis H. Boland are contained in an affidavit filed in Judge Craig's court yesterday by Mrs. Jennie H. & Roe, the divorced wife of Gorham Tufts, Jr., who is making an application for reduction of bail. Tufts has been in the County Jail since March 27, 1913, pending the termination of his appeal. He was convicted of embezzling funds of the estate of his wife, Jennie H. & Roe-Tufts. Mrs. Roe-Tufts has now come to the conclusion that her former husband is innocent and makes the following remarkable affidavit:

"A lawyer named Francis H. Boland was employed in some matters by Mr. Tufts and upon a controversy on matters other than financial between Mr. Tufts and myself, which resulted in a separation, he left Mr. Tufts and came to me claiming to know many things against Mr. Tufts, both as to his conduct of my finances and his personal character and conduct which was criminal and revolting, and by use of falsehoods and deceit he was able to influence me that I felt positive that my husband was both a degraded man and a criminal who had embezzled a large part of my property."

"Laboring under this belief and constantly being misled and deceived by this Mr. Boland, who was in my employ as an attorney, I allowed criminal proceedings to be brought against Mr. Tufts both for the embezzlement which Mr. Boland claimed he was guilty of and for obtaining money under false pretenses, the details of which I was made to believe showed Mr. Tufts to have been guilty of a serious crime."

"I have now become convinced that Mr. Boland's statements were untrue and that all his charges against Mr. Tufts were unfounded, and when I became convinced of this I examined into the case on which Mr. Tufts had been convicted and I found that the falsehoods and deceit practiced upon me by Mr. Boland, and I am positive that Mr. Tufts is innocent."

Other affidavits were filed from Dr. C. S. Hutchinson and Dr. W. F. Holman as to Tufts having had a hemorrhage while in the County Jail, and stating the belief of the physicians that he showed evidence of an old tubercular trouble. Sheriff Hammel and Jailer Gallagher substantiated these statements. Victor H. Steele also made affidavit to the effect that the note upon which Tufts was arrested had been paid off in full and affirming his belief in the integrity of the prisoner.

Deputy District Attorney Shannon offered Tufts's person in evidence as proof of his perfect physical condition. Tufts weighed over 250 pounds and has a frame in proportion.

Judge Craig remarked that Mrs. Tufts said in the courtroom that she was his wife, but didn't help him then. Now she is of a different opinion.

After the reading of the affidavits Judge Craig stated that he would have physicians examine Tufts and put the further hearing of his application over until next Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Tufts was taken back to jail.

FACTUAL FIGHT MYTH.

Off-Reported Differences Declared Existing Among Republic Life Insurance Directors Not Obvious.

The factual fight that has been frequently reported as existing among the stockholders of the Great Republic Life Insurance Company, called to make itself obvious at the annual election of the Board of Directors Tuesday afternoon, in the office on the third floor of the Union Oil building.

According to Lieut.-Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, president of the company, the entire proceeding was entirely too tame to be interesting.

There were but three changes on the entire board, and these were made only at the behest of directors who expressed a desire to be relieved of their responsibilities and to other affairs, which have been taking up their time.

The retiring directors are W. W. Phelps of Riverside and Kingsburg, Barabara and F. M. Crusen of this city. Dr. C. E. Stoner, A. B. Johnson and C. Spencer have been named to succeed them.

Other members of the directorate, in addition to Gen. Chaffee and those mentioned, are W. G. Kerckhoff, A. Getty, F. S. Churchill, A. O. Birch, F. L. Ainsworth, E. G. Kuster, H. H. H. H. F. Stewart, D. C. Williams, R. R. Muccio, R. G. Loucky, A. L. Reed, L. E. Smith, M. J. Broshong, T. W. McManus, H. O. Ward and John Tweedy.

On March 10, the board will meet to name officers for the ensuing year. The annual report of the first year's business of the new company, according to all officials, was very satisfactory.

COMPLAINT IS AMENDED.
Members of Clothing Firm, Charged With False Advertising, to Be Arrested Again.

Under a revised complaint issued by the city prosecutor yesterday, Foreman & Clark, a clothing firm, are charged with false advertising, and a warrant for their arrest is to be issued.

In Lincoln's Memory.

Russian, for the benefit of the many Russian children of Alpine street school, will be an innovation by Tena Restolovich, a pupil of that school. Patriotic songs and stories will complete the programme.

Tableaux depicting the successive stages in the life of Lincoln, from the nights when he read by the firelight in his boyhood days, to the last sad scene, will be given by fifth and sixth graders at Norwood street school. Cabanaga school children of the kindergarten and first grade, have made flags and banners, and the tiny tots will march with these about the school grounds, singing patriotic songs, after which indoor exercises will be held.

AN ILLINOIS MAN ON ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

BY EUGENE BROWN.
Justice and honor bore his shining sword.
Yet mercy ruled with her benignant hand;
With loving kindness was his great heart stored,
To ease the burdens of a storm-swept land.

My very earliest recollection, outside of some petty tragedies of the nursery, was the death of Abraham Lincoln.

Although I could not read, I recalled the morning paper with its inverted rules and deep mourning borders, because it was contemporaneous with a shadow which seemed to settle upon our own and neighboring households. Later I was to meet many men who knew Lincoln from manhood to martyrdom, and in whose homes where he had lodged when the majesty of the war was in embryo.

Western Illinois first welcomed him as a young lawyer, riding the circuit. Files of the Quincy Herald— with which I was connected—were later identified—made mention of Lincoln in the late '40's, when he began to be an occasional attendant upon the infrequent terms of the Adams county Circuit Court. Judge Stephen A. Douglas was better known and more popular, but young Lincoln wore mightily well and seemed to adjust himself happily to any company.

In the old Quincy House Lincoln always used to ask for No. 13, which was a small room at the end of the corridor overlooking the Public Square. I myself occupied this room the first time I visited Quincy and naturally had my youthful face groomed by the barber who used to shave Lincoln. Judge Douglas generally had a larger room on the corner, next to the John L. Miller, who is still living, as a youth used to answer the calls in the hotel, of which his father was landlord. He has told me many little incidents characteristic of the two men, who though good friends personally, were political enemies. CIVIL SERVICE ATTORNEYS ASK TIME TO FILE ANSWER.

New Stenographer Carrying Necessary Papers Looks in Wrong Place for Employer and Delay Results. County Anxious to Learn Opponent's Next Move.

Judge Wilbur announced yesterday that he was prepared to decide the suit of Mrs. Cora Norton against the Civil Service Commissioners, but when W. B. Mathews, associate counsel with the former Judge Boardwell, defending the Civil Service Commissioners, asked for a delay in which to file an answer in the suit of Miss Bertha Ferson against County Auditor Lewis, the court gave him until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at which time the cases will be considered submitted.

The testimony in the Norton case was presented by Deputy District Attorney Ford. The only witnesses were J. M. Hunter, Civil Service Commissioner, and Auditor Lewis. Mathews was granted until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon to file the answer in the Ferson case, which involves the right of the County Clerk and other officers to appoint their own deputies without leave of the Civil Service Commission, and also involves the duty of the County Auditor to pay salary demands without reference on the part of the commission.

When the time arrived Mathews made his plea. The material for the answer had been sent to Mathews' office by Commissioner Evans, but a new stenographer got the copy and went to the City Hall instead of the Courthouse to look for her employer. Ford commented on this in a way which caused everybody except Mathews to smile.

"I haven't any desire to answer to-day," said Ford, "but I am rather the impressive set of Edward Everett—but when it was realized that Lincoln would be able to present young Carr insisted that his voice should also be heard. The President demurred, but finally agreed to say a few words in recognition of his life and presence. Lincoln jotted down his remarks while the way to Gettysburg. "ADELE" NEXT AT MASON; NEW VAUDEVILLE BILLS.

THE CALIBER of the organization presenting "Adele," which has created a furore in New York for the past year, and which will be the attraction at the Mason Opera-house for one week, including matinee Wednesday and Saturday, beginning Monday night, February 16, may be estimated when it is known that the running expenses exceed $5000 weekly.

"Adele" is a French operetta in three acts, the book and lyrics by Paul Herve, and music by Jean Briquet, who, by the way, were responsible for "Alma."

"Adele" has the distinction of having entered the metropolis a little over a year ago, unheralded as it were, and of having made the most sensational hit scored by any musical organization in the past ten years.

It is a matter of record, that the jury of thirty-one who write for the thirty-one publications of the big city were as unit in proclaiming "Adele" the most substantial success since "The Merry Widow."

"Adele" will be presented here with the following well-known cast: Carolyn Thomson, Nannette Flack, Lottie Thimont, John Park, Ralph Nairn, George O'Donnell, Alfred Kappeler, Jules Espallay, and Lawrence Knapp, and the famous "Adele" beauties.

The operetta is sumptuously mounted and a metropolitan orchestra of twenty will add to the beauty of the twenty-two real song hits, which the famous "Adele" beauties will be seen wearing the latest revelations of the Parisian modiste's art.

Orpheum. A remarkable combination of three headliners will meet patrons of the Orpheum next week. For, while Nance O'Neill, herself a tower of strength to attract big houses, two exceptionally fine acts come to top the bill jointly.

The Maurice, the king of all ballroom dancers, with Florence Walton, and Frank Keenan, the greatest of American character actors, Maurice is the man who brought the tango and the Brazilian maxixe to America and Europe; he plays only in cities on this side of the ocean. San Francisco, St. Louis, New York and Chicago, beside here, and with Miss Walton, he gives the absolute authoritative interpretation of each of the dances which have made the world dance mad.

Frank Keenan, with his superb little company, will be seen in Willard's new production, "The Girl of the Golden West," and Smith, Cook and Marie Brandon, a team of the most popular comedians of the day, will be seen in "The Girl of the Golden West," and Smith, Cook and Marie Brandon, a team of the most popular comedians of the day, will be seen in "The Girl of the Golden West."

Woodley Theater. Bickel and Watson, Walter Catlett, Norton and Lee, and Arthur Clough, together with sixty dancing and singing associates, have surely caught the town with their mill-minute musical comedy hit, "How Dye Do."

Since the opening performance of "How Dye Do" the Woodley Theater has housed a succession of playgoers who have rocked in their seats with laughter at the funny antics of Bickel and Watson, in their specialty of a society prize fight, their piano-moving stunt, and the mirth-provoking business of two German musicians. Walter Catlett simply cannot make his legs behave and from the moment he enters the stage, he performs until his final exit, his feet perform shuffles, fligs and other acrobatic stunts that are a marvel to the eye.

Songs in a manner that calls for repeated encores by all lovers of the best. A word should be said of the wonderful chorus of twenty-four that graces and decorates every available nook and cranny of the Morocco stage, for each and every one, from all appearances, was picked not only from a beauty standpoint, but likewise for their vocal ability as well.

Burbank. "Pretty Mrs. Smith," now on the high road of undiminished popularity at the Burbank Theater, is undoubtedly the great big hit of the present theatrical season, and this fact is further attested by the steady line of buyers of seats at the box office.

"A Millionaire for a Day" has nothing to do with the antics of a recent aspirant for notoriety, but is a comedy of fanciful character, with music to match. Queenie Williams, Teddie McNamara, Willie Pollard, Leslie Donaghy, and Nellie McNamara head the company, with a long list of Pollard protégés in the chorus.

"A Wild Rose," a comedy in which a maverick husband is roped, thrown and branded, will appeal to the domesticated of both sexes. Two dancing acts, both having singing and patter embellishments, are offered by the De Forests, and by Roche & Crawford. Kresko & Fox are scheduled in aviation comedy, and songs.

Manager Walker promises a sixth act, which he says will be a good one, even if he has to go on the stage and do a turn himself.

Hippodrome.

A few more days remain in which opportunity is afforded to see Jack LaRue's great sketch of the under-story in which Lenders Stevens and George Cooper have met with such signal success this week, as Monday next a new ten-feature bill will occupy the boards, headed by Charles Reilly and company of seven in his charming Irish idyll, "The Bell of Shandon."

Tangoing, too, will be a feature of the new bill. Snyder & Hall coming here direct from the St. Louis Hippodrome to do the real Argentina in Los Angeles for the first time. Phil Lewis, the man behind the voice, will also be a strong feature.

Julia Gonzales, the aerial beauty, has an offering of headline proportion, and Euron Elyden and Jane O'Rourke, with their playlets, will have a brand new sketch.

The Light Opera Four will have new selections and La France & Conklin with a skit they call "Barred from Society," and three splendid photo plays, will complete the new show.

Woodley Theater.

A brand new, all-star bill of pictures and music goes into effect today at the Woodley Theater on Broadway, opposite the Majestic Theater. It will embrace many of the big Woodley features which have made the new playhouse an ever-growing success since its opening, not so very many months ago, supplying for even the blasé "movie" fiend something that is at once novel and entertaining.

The music programme promises to be a wiz. Garratt has evolved a programme which he is inclined to label "Garratt's Best," but Manager Woodley has decided to call it a challenge programme, and musicians from all over the city are invited to come and listen, then go and excel it, if they can.

Imitations are the sincerest form of flattery, and the number of pipe organs which have crept into the picture houses in the wake of the mammoth Woodley pipe organ, have done nothing so much as advertise the fact that the pioneer is still the peer.

Miller's.

The success of "The Lion and the Mouse," now in its second week at Miller's Theater, on Main street, between Eighth and Ninth, continues unabated, the great Klein drama, being a production, both on account of its many dramatic situations and the wonderful scenic effects it makes possible.

But there is an added novelty which makes the Miller production the most unique in town. It is the illustrative music, rendered by a remarkably pretty and clever girl, who follows every move of the story on the screen, and in addition to the running strains of the organ, creates the sound which goes with the actions of the film characters.

There is no noiseless engine at Miller's, no silent show, no auto horn which roars only in the imagination. All this is made real as life itself and adds 50 per cent to the vividness of the picture drama.

Clune's.

"In the Mesh of Her Hair," a rather remarkable motion picture drama of the sea, is announced by W. H. Clune as the headline attraction for the week-end bill at his Broadway Theater for Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week. It is a product of the Pathe Freres company, and an all-star cast was used to make it a production of luxe.

It is a love story of rare cleverness with a happy ending that sends the audience out of the theater with a smile of gladness.

Another special feature of the Clune week-end bill is a film showing Anna Held, the famous comedienne, in natural color photography. Each week-end dramatic actress, in stage beauty in natural color, and it is proving very attractive to patrons.

Mozart.

"The Third Degree," the famous drama of the American police system by Charles Klein, the noted author of "The Gamblers," "The Lion and the Mouse" and many other stage masterpieces, will be shown all next week in picture form at the Mozart Theater, commencing with the Monday matinee.

This well-known drama was produced at great expense with an all-star cast by the Lubin company. Five thousand feet of film are necessary to tell the remarkable story in pictures. All of the big scenes which made for the play a tremendous era of success on the stage are retained in the film production. Patrons of the drama are all more or less familiar with the story of the film, and even those who have seen the play acted will enjoy seeing it on the screen, since everything is depicted in the film and nothing left to the imagination.

Lauder Come.

William Morris will bring Harry Lauder, the Scotch comedian, to the Majestic Theater on Sunday night, February 22. Lauder is engaged in his sixth American tour under the direction of William Morris, and his itinerary will take him to the Pacific Coast for a period of nine weeks, after which he will sail for Australia from San Francisco on March 11. This is Lauder's first tour of the continent.

In the noted Scotch comedian's support will be Mona Garrick, the celebrated English dramatic actress, in a series of notable impersonations; Irene Bernheim, the famous Hungarian gypsy embezzler; the English contralto Ethel Bourne, direct from Albert and Queen's halls, London; Alfred Latell and Elsa Vokes, in "A Dog of Fantasy; Erno Rapee, the Hungarian court pianist, and Jack Ark, the Australian athlete, in a unique diabolical exhibition.

Lauder's song repertoire will be selected from the following: "It's Nice to Get Up in the Morning," "But Never to Lie in Bed," "Ta, Ta My Bonnie Maggie Darlin'" and "The Lodger," new songs never sung here before, among others being "I Love a Lassie," "She Is My Daisy," "Roamin' In the Gloamin'," "The Killie Brae," "It's Nice When You Love a Wee Lassie," "A Wee Deoch and Doris," "The Same as His Father Was Before Him," "The Safest of the Family," and "She's the Lass for Me."

Only one regret attends the appearance of the Pollard Opera Company at Pantages next week—the absence of Daphne Pollard from the cast. But in an artistic sense Daphne's place has been well filled by Queenie Williams, and "A Millionaire for a Day" does that suffer through the absence of Mrs. E. Strothers Bunch, as the former Miss Pollard is now officially known.

JOHN MCCORMACK CHARMING AN IMMENSE AUDIENCE

Irish Tenor Arouses Great Enthusiasm by Interpretation of Celtic Melodies—Winsome and Lively Brogue and Liquid Lyric Quality of Voice Involve His Hearers.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

WHILE there is nothing too good for the Irish, John McCormack must have been singularly pleased with the size and enthusiasm of the audience that greeted him last evening at the Auditorium.

It was the "prettiest of houses" in more ways than one, but especially in the vernacular of the box office, which is the smiling utterance of managers when the full capacity of the house has been sold.

From the upper balcony to the orchestra pit spectators showed one another a beautiful and inspiring sight for any artist. And it was worth while at that.

John McCormack is about to reach the twenty-ninth milestone of his life, and is probably just now at his very best.

He has gained greater poise and his well-known lyricism rises to dramatic fervor when required. His quality of voice, tenor robust, goes well with his virile, big, handsome personality.

His enunciation is clear and his tone sympathetic; he has method, but, above all, that intelligent and emotional power of expression that holds and grasps an audience.

The first number, "Deeper and Deeper Still," was a masterpiece of Jeptha-Handel, was attractive enough, but "Who Knows," his first encore, was much more convincing.

Schumann's "Intermezzo," sung in German, was a queer bit of color in the programme, well done, but, after a Celtic-Germanic interpretation of secondary importance. With "I'll give you a love," given in French, McCormack became far more interesting, as his kin are often called the Frenchmen of the British Isles.

In Allister's "The Lord Is My

Light" the tenor sang as a dramatic first order.

The group of Irish songs, which McCormack sang with such happy interpretation, were taken from the songs of the Emerald Isle, and the finale of "The Irish Song" brought back the audience to the stage, combined with the mellifluous brogue of the tenor, and a most dramatic and convincing interpretation of the songs of the Emerald Isle.

Look at What Transpired While Mr. Wad and Titus Were on Their Way to the Fight!—By Gale

WILSON OF GIANTS TO SIGN WITH FEDERALS.

Meyer's Mate Declares that He Will Desert
Organized Baseball—Has Attractive Offer from Stov-
and Won't Miss World's Series Money—Thomas Pitcher from Guam.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.
Wilson, signing the proposition, will not accept any "chattel" from that organization.
The Federal League is a good place to go if you feel yourself slipping, is the slogan of the players. They argue that a player who is about through as a major leaguer should grab the money while the grabbing is good.
But is that good logic?
Is the Federal League an elysium for the player who is hovering on the toboggan?
Those are the players who in a year or two must turn to the minors for a berth, or go to work.
The Federal League is not a benevolent organization. It is offering big money now because it is forced to in order to get the necessary talent. Later it must readjust salaries to conform to a sound business basis.
The Federal League will not be a home for superannuated ball players. It will be compelled to rid its system of men who fail to make good. Primarily, there is no difference between organized and "outlaw" ball. That is, a man must deliver the goods in order to hold his job.
Some of the men signed by the Federals are about through as major leaguers. In fact, but few of them would have brought more than the waiver price in either of the big leagues while others figured to have a hard time holding their own in class AA company the coming season.
All of these cannot hope to make good with the Federals, and they will find in the new league, as in all others, a necessary sacrifice to speed and effectiveness.
It is not likely that the Federals will provide a pension fund for players who become leaguers, halt and blind in the region of the batting eye.
The future seems to hold just one hope for the Federal League player who is approaching the junk heap, and that is that the new league makes peace with organized baseball. That would open the minor leagues to ex-Federal Leaguers, and enable them to round out their days in the manzanita circuits.
George Stovall evidently believes this will be the solution. The western wing of the Federal forces yesterday predicted that the Federals will be in organized baseball within three years.
"We have made the American and National sit up and take notice," said Stovall. "They have been holding meetings at about the rate of three a day, and the way things have been going they are likely to decide that they need us in their business. When we do go into organized baseball it will be on our own terms, and after we have got what we are after. In the meantime we are getting a lot of money for the players by forcing the other leagues to pay better salaries."
Stovall will leave for Kansas City in a few days. In the meantime he would like to sign up a good team for the male quartette which he plans to place in the field the coming season. He is also on the lookout for a good, competent bartender. Don't all speak at once.

Turn back on organized baseball.
Arthur Wilson of the New York Giants, who announces that he will sign with the Federal League. Wilson is now in Los Angeles.

sent to Evers playing with the Yankees in preference to having him transfer his allegiance to the Federals.

Two Formidable Foes.
Between Murphy and the Federals, organized baseball is having a tough fight.

Lajole to Be on Job.
Napoleon Lajole, who for a couple of seasons past has been consigned to the baseball morgue by bright young baseball writers, will be doing business at the old stand the coming season.

This information was yesterday disseminated along Spring street by Ivan Olson, manager commonly known as the "Olson" who has a kiltish way of reaching out and hitting them with one hand. Kieffer decided to wipe the Frenchman's nose with a high, fast one inside. He catapulted the pill a little more inside than he intended, and Lajole saved his life by throwing up his hand. The result was a bad fracture, and several weeks on the bench for Larry.

At this point Ed Kieffer, who had been standing in the edge of the group, was seen to be blushing furiously. Introductions followed, and Olson then recognized Kieffer as the pitcher who had busted the mighty hand of the celebrated Frenchman.
Kieffer was with New York at the time. It was the first time that he pitched to Lajole. Chance instructed him to waste one on Larry. Having been informed that it always proved fatal to waste one on the outside for Lajole, who has a kiltish way of reaching out and hitting them with one hand, Kieffer decided to wipe the Frenchman's nose with a high, fast one inside. He catapulted the pill a little more inside than he intended, and Lajole saved his life by throwing up his hand. The result was a bad fracture, and several weeks on the bench for Larry.

Mr. Maler was accompanied by U. G. Dore, said to be the only president in the world who swings from the hip up when using a typewriter.

The Best Reason.
One good reason why the Federal League should succeed—Charles Webb Murphy.

Chance Wants Evers.
Frank Chance stands ready to receive John J. Evers into the Fellowship of the New York Yankees.

Signs Player From Guam.
Jack Thomas, manager of the Stockton club, will have the most violent spring squad in the California League.

To be he has signed two Indians, and a native of Guam, an island located some place in the South Pacific. Pedro Duarte is the name of the Guismita, and he is a pitcher. Thomas is not sure of his nationality, but reckons that he is not far re

Hogan and Christian are the only Oaks of that day still in the Coast League, and the former has transferred his allegiance across the bay. None of the Seals listed still wear the San Francisco colors, although some of them are still in the circuit. Tennant is with Sacramento, and Berry is a Portland "chattel." Members of the Venice team.
The others are scattered over the baseball landscape all the way from North Yakima to "Bawston." Any other information desired in this connection will be supplied on request.
Jean Boulon, the great French distance runner, will leave Paris for the United States in March if his present arrangements are carried out.
NEW RECORD SET.
F. Stettler of Los Angeles lowered the Southern California roller-skating record last night when he negotiated the distance in 3 min. 2 sec., beating H. Wolf of Venice and Joe Sheeder of Los Angeles, who took second and third.
With but one lap to go, Fairchild fell. Wolf and Sheeder both fell over him, but finished.
While on the first lap, Atkins fell and broke an arm.

Up and Down Broadway. ROAST WITH A REASON.

Morocco Knocks Off Work
to Pan Me.

Lord and Lady Decies Coming to See Gordon.

"Help Wanted" Opens Well
in New York.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

Help!
Right away, when the weather is fine, and everything ought to be lovely, I get roasted to a frazzle.

Of course, when Oliver Morocco breaks into the busy routine of his day to write a roast, I suspect a nigger in the woodpile, and when he scoops me for something I said about Margaret Illington, I suspect he really wants to call attention to the fact that he pays big salaries to get his people for the Burbank.

Incidentally, I presume he will be disappointed if I don't mention in this connection Kitty Gordon and "Pretty Mrs. Smith." Also Selma Paley and
"Rita's Romance," etc., etc.

And all the time he knows I'll print
what he wrote, if for no other reason than to give Sam Clover a chance to pan me in his weekly.

Anyway, here is the letter:

"My Dear Brad:
I noticed in this morning's issue
of The Times that you mention, or rather, intimate, that Miss Margaret Illington appeared in this city at the head of the Burbank stock company and that since that time Miss Illington has become a star.

"Now, Brad, I cannot conceive of any one of your intelligence making so broad a statement, especially when the public of your own city knows the real facts. Miss Illington was a star of the first magnitude long before she ever heard of the Burbank stock company, having played the star
role in 'The Lion and the Mouse,'
and other big plays, and at one time
having played the opposite star role with John Drew in 'Pinner's Play' 'His House in Order.' Aside from this fact Miss Illington not only appeared in every principal city in the United States as a star, but was also received most kindly in that capacity in London.

"The way your recent article read
it would appear that Miss Illington was the leading woman of the Burbank stock company and graduated from the ranks of said company. Miss Illington played a starring engagement with the Burbank company
some two years ago. The Burbank company is the only stock organization in America that Miss Illington would play in, just as it is the only stock organization where stars like Kitty Gordon, Laurette Taylor, Richard Bennett, Edgar Selwyn and others have played.

"It is because Los Angeles is noted from one end of the country to the other to contain the finest stock organization in America and because its manager (pardon me while I blush)
has become a somewhat representative New York producer and mainly because the Burbank is a production theater.

"It was in this theater that Miss Illington discovered 'Kindling,' in which she starred for two consecutive years.

"Permit me to say in conclusion that Miss Illington is, in my estimation,
the greatest emotional actress on the American stage. Otherwise, I am well, and hope you are in a like condition."

I got a telegram from Jack Lall
in New York, telling me that the Gotham version of "Help Wanted" opened last night with a bang, and that it looks like a go. That is some relief for Jack and for Morocco, too, for, believe me, they have both been pretty well scared.

And who is in the office but Lord
and Lady Decies, who are en route
here from Denver to see Kitty Gordon. No, this is not press dope, for it happens that Lord Decies is brother to Kitty Gordon's hubby, and there you are.

I have been wondering how Harry James could be such a prolific and constant loser at the "26" game, but it came out yesterday while I was in one of the music stores. The Mrs.

Getting much attention.

Smith song and the one about "Love Has Come to Live in Our House" are breaking all local sales records, so why should Harry bibble.

Harry Lauder is coming to the Majestic. I could have guessed it from the pile of stories on my desk telling us how stingy he is. It's a wonder Harry will stand for press agent to do this stuff, though, thank the Lord,
he doesn't try to do it himself.

Nance O'Neill is going to do the "Jewess" next week at the Orpheum.
Instead of the sketch she is using this week, which cannot help but be gratifying to many.

Well, Well, Well.

HENSLEY SUE FOR DESERTION.

BALL PLAYER IS PINCHED AT SANTA BARBARA.

Wife of Well-Known Shortstop
and Pitcher, Claims Non-Support but "Whitney" Says that She Doesn't Need It—Going Back to Monmouth in a Few Days.

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Arthur "Whitney" Hensley, idol of the local baseball fans, having played a most spectacular game this winter in the infield for the Santa Barbara team, tonight is in the County Jail, Los Angeles, officers having demanded his arrest and detention on a charge of non-support filed by his wife. When locked up, Hensley did not seem much more worried than he would at shortstop with a stalling grounder coming toward him.

"It is only a plot of my wife to secure a divorce," said Hensley. "It is true, we have not lived together
for two months, but that has been because my wife insisted on living with her mother, and I would not stand for that. My wife wants me to plead guilty to the charge so she can secure a divorce, that is all there is to it."

Friends of Hensley say his wife is worth probably $25,000 and does not need his support. They declare confidence in the ball player.
Hensley, a few years ago pitched for Vernon, making a remarkable record. In eighteen games he won sixteen and pitched three games a week. Hensley has been signed by the Monmouth team of the Central Association for the coming season
and plans to report for duty within two weeks.

At the Pantages this week are Walter Terry and the Six Fiji Girls. Our illustration presents Grace Elmore and the Fiji maids after Walter has converted them from cannibalism and grass draperies to civilization and silk stockings. Yes, gentle reader, the silk stockings are in this picture, although you can't see them. Below is Kitty Gordon in "Pretty Mrs. Smith," now running at the Burbank.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—American League schedule makers, who announced tonight their programme for the coming season, awarded to Boston, New York, Chicago and Detroit
the opening games set for Tuesday, April 14.

Chicago will see the greatest number of Sunday games, fifteen in all.
Every other club is given two of the Sunday dates, with St. Louis, getting the extra one.
The only four conflicting dates
scheduled with the National League
will be played in Chicago on Sundays.
In the old days conflicts were more frequent, and took place in St. Louis
as well as Chicago, but the removal of the Sunday-ball ban in Detroit and

Cleveland has made it possible to lessen them.
The season closes three days earlier
in the west section than in the east.
Sunday, October 4, sees the end in the former division. The last games in the East are to be played October 7.

ROCKFORD PITCHER GOING EAST SOON.

Clarence D. Marshall, pitcher and manager for the Rockford club in the N. I. League has signed to report to his old club again this spring and is making preparations to leave Los Angeles early in March.
Marshall has had offers from Coast League managers, so it is claimed, but the money at Rockford had too much color so he enlisted for life, or until disposed of by the club. Every winter Marshall pitches in and around Los Angeles and he is well known to local winter fans.

RALPH READY TO RACE BARNEY

Fierce Duel Promised for Vanderbilt Cup.

Old-Time Rivals Meet on Fastest Course.

De Lage May Have a Local Pilot.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

Barney Oldfield, Spencer Wishart
and Edward Pullen will drive three of the fastest Mercer cars in the Vanderbilt cup race that have ever appeared on any course. This trio of crack drivers will start as a three to one shot in that Vanderbilt cup race. Barney will start with every assurance of breaking a world record
as he is confident his Mercer will do 110 miles an hour. That is fast enough to win.

Now the old-time rivalry between Oldfield and his gallant friend Ralph De Lage still stands. When the great Italian pilot reaches here he will find the speed king prepared to give him the battle of his life. Even Barney will admit he has much to fear from that Mercedes and its fearless black-haired driver. How Ralph will drive on the day of the race only Barney can realize.

The two met at Corona. They tried out their cars for a 100 miles and Ralph was forced to drop out. Now comes De Lage with one of the fastest cars that will appear in the Vanderbilt, the car that won the last race. That Mercedes is good for 110 miles an hour and is a match for that Mercer.

Asking no odds of any one, De Lage comes here from Chicago. He is well known. He has a host of friends in the West. He will be one of the favorites in that Vanderbilt.
Confident, calm and phlegmatic,
Ralph will start away with his eyes on Barney. He must beat his old-time rival. These two will figure in a duel as if no others were entered.
Ralph wants to keep the Vanderbilt cup. Barney wants to win it. They both have an excellent chance to take first honors and the trophy. Watch them drive.

FIERCE DUEL.
If he finds himself losing and it is necessary to stop just a little harder
on the throttle as he comes to Dead
Man's turn, Barney will not hesitate.
If in so doing he can catch Ralph, he certainly will press hard on that foot accelerator. It will mean a few more miles which but Champion Oldfield
is ready to take them and he stands
prepared to make the fight of his life.

Ralph should run away from Barney
on the Nevada-avenue stretch.
Now, perhaps Barney will not agree with me here, but judging from the past performances of the Mercedes this is what will happen. Barney will beat Ralph on the curves. Ralph will slip it over Barney on the straightaways. This leaves room for a question. Which is better to have the speed or the strength to whirl
your car at breakneck speed and gain
on the man who may be leading.

While these two pilots are fighting
it out for first place what do you suppose our friend Wishart or that other Mercer will be doing. Spencer is a winner. This quiet youth, still in his early twenties, has all the dash of a daredevil kid and may be able to show more recklessness than either of his older competitors. Wishart has the nerve and his Mercer has the speed.
Then we must figure Earl Cooper
with the Star. He is prepared for a fight. He cannot figure any one else than himself as winner of the Vanderbilt cup. Confidence marks his every action. He is traveling in fast company, however, the fastest in which he has ever figured and he will be there every second of the time the race is in progress.

TOFT IN DE LAGE.
That De Lage racer must also be taken into the reckoning. Omar Toft is not in first-class shape, but the factory man is prepared to handle
his mount and it is whispered about that in case Omar is unable to take his place at the helm a well-known local driver may be substituted.
This would create a burst of the right kind of enthusiasm, as Mrs. Lottis K.
Northam is always willing to take a chance when shown she has an opportunity to win that Vanderbilt cup.

Toft is rapidly recovering from his severe shake up that put him into the discards after that first practice in France. He may be able to drive half of the race, but it is almost certain he will not finish the contest.

THE NEXT ISSUE OF THE SEMI-MONTHLY MAGAZINE

will have an unusual number of interesting features. At the head of the fiction list we have placed

A STREAK OF YELLOW

The Story of a $10,000 Temptation.
By Crittenden Marriott.

There are many of us who would not be tempted by a sum far greater than this, but even the best of us have a streak of yellow. $10,000 in bills lying against the wicket of an empty paying teller's cage,
and not a soul about, was too great a temptation for the young man who saw, and from then on the story becomes gripping and tragic. The illustrations by Charles Frederic Miller are as strong as the story.

THE BUNK HOUSE PRISONER

By Robert Barr.

Illustrations by J. N. Marchand.

A story entirely different but equally absorbing, and as usual, the illustrations by Marchand are worthy of the tale, strong and virile with the wild touch of the West.
There are plenty of action and unexpected situations in this story that has to do with the adventures of Lord Stranleigh, our wealthy English nobleman, to make it enjoyable.

A transcontinental trail and what it would mean to this country is the subject of Gen. Harrison Gray Otis's editorial

THE OCEAN-TO-OCEAN HIGHWAY

The project is a wonderful one and worthy as a memorial to the name of Abraham Lincoln. It is to be called "The Lincoln Highway" and General Otis has some mighty interesting things to say in this editorial that will show how the whole country benefits.

MAN PROPOSES; WOMAN—?

By A Married Woman.

Illustrations by Charles Frederic Miller.

This might be called an article. Our women readers would probably call it
"Confessions." Our masculine friends will undoubtedly call it an "eye-opener."

THE HEN AND THE GOLDEN EGG

By E. I. Farrington

is timely and interesting.

THE COVER DESIGN

By B. Cory Kibert

is aptly called "COLD FEET," and is decidedly humorous.

All good pupils after a vaca-

School of Domestic Science are eager for school to reopen this afternoon. Mrs. Bertha Ginger, who will conduct the course and experiments, has won an excellent place in the hearts of her pupils, and they are all anxious to see her back.

An informal reception with which the School of Domestic Science reopens this afternoon will be held promptly at 3 o'clock. After a talk with her pupils, Mrs. Haff-freshments and an opportunity will be given to all to get acquainted with or renewed with the popular information of the domestic sci-

The school will be held on Tuesday,
Wednesday and Saturday of each week
from 2 to 4 o'clock. Mrs. Haffner-Ginger has planned a course of instruction which will prove of great benefit to the cook of many seasons as well as the beginner. There will be something of value for each one who wishes to master the science.

During the season Mrs. Haffner-Ginger will spend considerable time
in instructing her pupils in the care and decoration of the table. She will also give many talks along the lines of making housework easier.
During the sixteen years she has devoted to the study and teaching of domestic science she has discovered
many little "short cuts" in the preparation of the menu. These and many other interesting facts she will give to her pupils.

Each lesson will be of interest, and all who expect to take up this delightful study are urged not to miss a single lesson.

The Times Cooking School will be conducted in the large auditorium of the Times Building at First and Broadway, where a model kitchen was installed last season. It is an airy room and a delightful place for such instruction. The series of lectures are open to all.

SURPRISES PROMISED.

Young Women's Christian Association
Canvassers Holding Something Back Until Tomorrow.

The grand total of funds collected in the campaign of the Young Women's Christian Association to raise $25,000 last night amounted to $11-
and the day upward of $100,000.

Today being a holiday, no reports
will be received, but the canvassers
will be active, and it is promised that there are several surprises ready to be sprung tomorrow. This will be the tenth day, and the last according to the original schedule, and what a fine thing it would be if some generous individual would volunteer a check to make up whatever is lacking of the desired sum.

None are more actively interested in the campaign than the "Campfire Girls." There are about 100 of them, largely recruited from the department stores, and they are affiliated with a national order of that name within the Y.W.C.A., which now has a membership of over 100,000.

They work steadily along seven given lines of activity, all bearing upright living to be healthy, happy and husky. The badges they wear in their meetings is a string of beads,
there being seven different colors.
When a girl excels in a certain branch of their work she is decorated with a string of yellow beads, for instance.
Excelling in another direction she receives a string of red beads, and so on.

Their distinctive recreation feature is a summer camp in the mountains, where they are chaperoned by women in charge of that work in the association. Last year seventy-five of them camped in the forest reserve,
north of Switzer's Camp, most of them showing marked endurance in climbing the mountain trails. This is a drawing card in their efforts to attract new members. These camps are financed by the girls, paying $5
each, and the women who manage them direct their economic activity toward making them self-sustaining.

Sierra Madre Board of Trade
Adopts Progressive Policy in a Number of Public Questions.

SIERRA MADRE, Feb. 11.—Under the management of President F. D. H.
Moore and Secretary E. F. Ballou,
the meeting of the Board of Trade
Monday night accomplished much and many important measures for civic improvement were launched, discussed and passed upon.

One of the important movements taken up and settled was the sending of a petition to the State Railway Commissioners for a hearing on several transportation questions involving the Pacific Electric Railway, principally that of double-tracking the road. It is believed that the commission will not be obliged to go deeply into this, as it has been announced by Paul Shoup of the Pacific Electric Railway, if it can be shown that former officials of the road entered into a tentative agreement to do this some years ago
when the franchise was granted it will be done in a short time. This undoubtedly can be shown by those who were on the committee negotiating bonuses and rights of way. The matter is to be taken up from this angle also.

The yearly banquet of the board has been arranged for and will take place at the Woman's clubhouse on the evening of March 19. Music, oratory from prominent speakers, grapefruit and good "cats" will feature the occasion.

The question of ornamental lights
was passed to the present City Trustees, also other questions covering the planting of shade trees, abolishing of wooden sidewalks, which deface the principal streets, and other needed improvements. Over twenty important questions were discussed and consummated in the two-hour session and much gratification expressed over the activity by those interested. A slight effort was made to inject politics into the gathering
and several anticipated a peppery wrangle, but through the astute handling of the questions involved by Mayor C. W. Jones and Claude Davis the issue was squelched in its incipient stage.

BURGULAR BOUND OVER.

James Ford, who burglarized the Blinn Lumber Company's office, securing a small amount of cash therefrom, was bound over to the Superior Court by Recorder Charles Hall Perry. His bond was fixed at $1000.

Couldn't Look That Way.

[Chicago Record Herald:] Cyril Maude, the English comedian, was talking about class distinctions. "They are less marked with you than with us," he said. "Here you all talk alike
—the shop girl's accent differs in no
wise from that of a Stuyvesant or a Roosevelt. But with us, the lower classes talk a disgraceful jargon."
"The 'y' especially. The lower classes can never master the 'y' in my youth I once heard a stage manager rehearsing 'Faust.' He had strung from the people, poor chap,
and he conducted the rehearsal like this:

"'Old your 'ands on your 'ipa, 'old
up your 'eads, and look 'aughty.
'You're not on 'Ampstead 'Eath now
'You're in 'Ade. Now 'asten off
'urriedly, with a look of 'ate.'
"But, sir, said I, 'there's only six of us."

In the model kitchen of "The Times" Cooking School.
Mrs. Bertha Haffner-Ginger, who will today open the popular course of public lectures on the art of making good things to eat, is shown here in her favorite environment of pots and pans and things.

IMPOSTOR GETS AWAY.

Daylight Marauder Successfully

but Falls to Secure Loot.

Representing himself as Harry Raymond, a private detective who has been connected with several important criminal cases in Los Angeles, an unknown man attempted to loot the home of Mrs. Frank Stoddard, president of the Florence Crittenton Home, No. 921 West Fourth street, yesterday.

The impostor entered the Stoddard home through a rear door. When he was met by Mrs. Stoddard, who became alarmed by the noise, he introduced himself as Raymond, and said

RACE OF SUPER-MEN.

Are Expected to Have a Whiter Skin than Any Present People and Will Reflect Ultra Violet Rays.

[Indianapolis News:] The race of super-men which eventually may replace present-day humanity on our planet, according to some prophets,
will have a skin greatly different from that of the man of today. It will be much whiter than the skin of any present race.

Prof. Daniel Berthelot, eminent French specialist, declares that the skin of the human race has undergone great changes since our primitive ancestors. He finds notably that white is the whitest of modern skins reflect almost all the colors of the spectrum,
the skins of the more primitive races absorb the colors of higher and finer vibrations and only reflect the stronger colors at the spectrum's lower end.

For instance, the skins of the primitive negro races reflected practically no colors at all. The red-skinned races reflected only the reds at the lower end of the spectrum, and the so-called yellow races only as far as the yellow in the center. The white skins of the races of today are able to reflect not only the blues, but also the violets
at the top of the visible spectrum. Although the strength and clearness of the reflection varies with each individual skin.

But no skin has been found so far capable of reflecting the ultra-violet rays, which, although present in almost all light, vibrate at a rate too
high to be visible to the human eye.
It is therefore believed that the past
evolution of the human skin foreshadows the existence in the distant future of an ultra-white race, which,
in addition to its other capacities, will have a skin capable of reflecting the invisible ultra-violet rays.

Of Course She Knew It.

there is Mozart's Twelfth Mass. You remember that, Mrs. Hiscorn?"
"Remember it? I should say so. Why, my husband served through the war
in that very regiment!"

"Men are often captives of a face—

Winter comes our way but once a year with its frozen streams and drifting snows. Why wouldn't youths and maidens, with warm, rich blood in their veins, scream with delight at the thought that there would be skating by nightfall? Daughters of the rich can skate when and where they will; but the girls who are employed cannot be choosers.
They must seek their pleasures when the toll of the day is over. The girls hastily fish out the bag into which they dumped their skates last year.
The lassies have no escorts, but do you think for a moment they'll stand back and lose the chance of enjoying the sport of skating because of that? Not they.

Half a dozen of them decide they will go together. The folks tell them: "You are looking your best tonight, sis. Your girl friends better not tell their brothers they'll be with you or some of them will lose him!"

Unfortunately those girls haven't brothers, but they have no end of acquaintances "who might be the reply. The merry laughter of the skaters on the ice quickens their steps as they approach the gate. The disappointment of their lives comes to them when they are refused admittance. "This is no place for un-escorted girls," the gateman declares. In vain they plead with him.
"That's our rule here," he insists. If some kind-hearted philanthropist
were to see the grief of this bevy of discouraged girls, he might find an excellent use for his gold in providing a suitable place where unattached lassies might indulge to their hearts'
content in the innocent pastime of skating.

Or, better still, he could induce those in charge of the ice rinks to waive their stern mandate and allow the girls to indulge in their frolic,
which makes for health, rosy cheeks
and strength of limbs. They need not do away with careful supervision of the young folks. Such groups of nice young girls are quite as ready to resent any attempt of familiarity
from unknown men as are daughters of wealth who are carefully chaperoned.

Life should be made happier for girls who are struggling against the world and whose pleasures are few and fleeting. One hour out in the indoors. Winter sports are short at best. Help them to keep young with good, healthy enjoyment.

THROOP'S SITE FOR CITY HALL.

Old College Property Offered for Municipal Purpose.

Officials to Secure Option to Purchase Property.

Dansant on Roller Skates Latest in Society.

PASADENA, Feb. 12.—The trustees of Throop College of Technology appeared before the City Commission yesterday and offered to sell the city the old college buildings and the ground on which they stand, on Chestnut street between Fair Oaks and Raymond avenues, for $120,000 for a city hall, and city center site. The commissioners have decided to procure an option on the property. It will probably be acquired within the next thirty days, and if it is purchased, the city officials will move into the east hall there at the end of July.

The commissioners believe that the proposition is a good one from a business point of view. Their plan is to dispose of the present City Hall and the site it stands on and to apply the proceeds to the purchase of the proposed new one and perhaps the erection of a new City Hall that will be adequate for the needs of the municipality.

If the deal is made, the payments will be at the rate of $10,000 a year with interest at 4 per cent. The necessary amount with which to make the payments will be included in each year's budget, and the city will thus acquire a City Hall site as it wants without the necessity of calling a bond election, as has been considered.

The proposition was presented to the city yesterday by Arthur H. Fleming and James A. Culbertson, two of the Throop College trustees, who spent several hours in a conference with the commissioners apropos of the subject.

Following the session the commissioners went personally to the place to inspect the buildings and to see whether the east hall will serve temporarily as a building, and to hear their opinion that the large assembly room might be used as a commission chamber and that the different city offices might be established in the classrooms. The west hall, if the plan is carried out, will be used by the municipal light and water departments. As for the athletic field, which is now used by the Young Men's Christian Association, it will be made the site of the municipal market. The total site comprises about four acres.

NOV. ON SKATES. The novelty of the year here is one partial arrangement for which have been made at the Hotel Green. It is nothing less than a dansant on roller skates.

The affair will be a society event and it will take place in the roof garden of the huge caravansary. The feature of the evening will be a demonstration of the tango on skates, after which example some of the guests will probably attempt to execute.

The craze for original social functions this winter has led to many intentions of such a nature, and the roller-skate tango has made the biggest ripple on the pond. The date has not yet been set, but the party is to be in the near future.

The last week has been characterized by a marked increase in the daily number of arrivals in the city, and hotel men are sanguine of a season as prosperous, if not more so, than that of last year.

The winter so far has also been a gay one. One social function followed close on the heels of another. The Coleman chaperon-concert series to be given at the Hotel Green today will be attended by many society people of the city and Los Angeles.

UP AGAINST IT. The Pasadena Board of Education is again in a difficulty with the city. City Attorney Mungler yesterday filed an opinion with the City Commission in which he holds that there is no way for the board to escape paying for its share of the ornamental lights that have been installed on Los Robles avenue.

You are advised," he states, "that these assessments must be paid by the school district, and the contractor can enforce their payment by sale of the property, for the reason that such property is not now in use in the performance of a public function."

CITY BRIEFS. Twenty-five representatives of the H. E. Huntington interests were the guests of the Huntington Hotel management at a dinner given there last night. Among those present were Howard Huntington, R. T. Varnum, Walter Gregory, G. V. Shover, Homer Hough, W. Williams, Robert Pope, Edward Callahan, C. E. Culver and William Chalmers.

The regular Wednesday night supper dance at the Huntington last night was attended by nearly 500 persons. It was the most brilliant of the winter.

The Southern California Edison Company yesterday filed a new proposal with the City Commission. It applies to electricity used for other than the present City Hall and the site it stands on and to apply the proceeds to the purchase of the proposed new one and perhaps the erection of a new City Hall that will be adequate for the needs of the municipality.

In an attempt to swell their numbers, the Progressives of Pasadena have elected C. W. Rhodes president of the Pasadena Progressive Club, and have voted to increase the number of the club's members from five to seven.

Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Leffingwell of San Rafael Heights have received another letter from their son, Ernest de Koven Leffingwell, the Arctic explorer, stating that he is safe in winter quarters on Flaxman Island, north of Point Barrow, on the northern coast of Alaska. The letter was written last October.

Los Angeles Attorney Appears in Libel Suit.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 11.—A fire that originated in the rear of the Roanoke Hotel at Third and F streets, threatened that hostelry this morning at 1 o'clock.

The fire is believed to have been caused by the explosion of a small oil can on a rear porch, and it is possible also that electric wires had a part. The building was filled with smoke and the 100 guests made their exit hurriedly and many in scanty attire. As soon as the blaze was discovered, good condition on the ground on the ground that it was made with the understanding that it was to be recorded except upon her death.

NEWS BRIEFS. Today $50,000 was turned into the county treasury in payment of bonds of the Tustin school district. The purchase was made by William B. Staats Company of Los Angeles. Tustin is to build a fine new schoolhouse.

Jesus Camireno has been held to answer for trial in the Superior Court on a charge of burglarizing the home of Mrs. Goldie Furr at Huntington Beach on November 24. Camireno was one of a gang of Mexican burglars who had been active in the area. He was wanted for burglaries at Long Beach and Santa Monica.

BIGGER OFFICE NEEDED. Federal Government Posts Notice Asking for Proposals for New Postal Quarters.—News in Brief.

UPLAND, Feb. 11.—The Federal government has posted notice in the Upland postoffice to the effect that additional space is needed for the use of the building of the local postoffice, this being occasioned by the great increase in the business of the office. The department asks for quarters with not less than 2400 square feet of floor space, a building six stories high, with a full basement, and with a full range of conveniences, and bids for the furnishing of the building. The estimated cost of the building is $100,000. The present office is located in the Ruddy building, on West Ninth street, and has been, for some time past, entirely inadequate to the needs of the office.

NEWS BRIEFS. Funeral services of the late Mrs. J. W. McManis are to be held at the Methodist Episcopal church at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. The funeral will be held at the residence of the late Mrs. McManis, 1015 West Ninth street, and will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. S. S. Sampson. Interment will be in Bellevue cemetery. Mrs. McManis was a native of Montana and had resided in Upland some three years. Her death resulted from lockjaw, following blood poisoning. She was 40 years of age and had four children.

THE "CHINO BOOSTERS," with some fifty automobiles, passed through the city this morning en route to the fair which was held in Library Hall. President W. F. Grew of the organization was toastmaster, while the program was ably aided by a good road rally. Addresses boosting the highway bonds were delivered by C. E. McStay of Los Angeles, Road Commissioner Gill and Prendergast, and others.

A good roads meeting was also held here at the Hotel Redondo. The address of welcome was given by a number of local speakers, including George M. Cooley, J. E. Rich and others.

RESTAURANT CHANGE. REDONDO BEACH, Feb. 11.—Messrs. Heppner and Taylor, who have been operating the restaurant at the Hotel Redondo, have given up their present quarters in the pavilion and have made arrangements to take over the dining-room and sidewalk of the Hotel Redondo.

Shadow Skirts—Problem Plays. PASADENA MEN INVADE A DANGEROUS FIELD.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.] PASADENA, Feb. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The new Century Club which met last night at the home of former Judge William A. Spill, No. 1122 North Los Robles avenue, to discuss "Shadow Skirts and Problem Plays," before it adjourned unanimously adopted a motion "that the club go on record as favoring more simplicity in the dress of our school children and more modesty in the dress of our women."

No one opposed the motion, but there was, however, a wide difference of opinion on the subject in the sentiments expressed by about a dozen speakers.

Dr. W. A. Cundy declared there are just as many ridiculous features in the dress of men today as of women. "Men because they know that anything that comes from Paris will be worn here; then they laugh at American fashions, and wear real fashions that come from Paris."

There is no reason why women should not wear trousers, for that matter. But how ridiculous it would be. Others said that women have a mind of their own and that they are not to dress like men, no matter what more man may say. S. W. Odell said that to his mind the hobbie skirt had been fashioned

REPORTERS ADMITTED. Santa Ana Court Excludes Public, but Permits Writers to Remain. News Notes. SANTA ANA, Feb. 11.—Though granting an order to close the doors of the courtroom during the progress of a divorce trial today, Superior Judge Thomas refused to exclude newspaper reporters. He said that he doubted that on any occasion ever closing the doors of a divorce court against the public, that if men and women will take their marital troubles to court, the light of publicity should be turned on.

The case on trial was that of George Ellis, a Garden Grove rancher, against Edith Ellis, who is an attorney. Ellis said that until he married the woman in 1909 he did not drink and had not smoked enough tobacco to make a cigarette. Mrs. Ellis insisted that he had been drinking and smoking since he was a boy. His accusation was that she became intoxicated and had caused the divorce. The case is expected to continue tomorrow.

VENICE, Feb. 11.—The high tides ripping the ocean frontage of South Venice and threatening to wreak still further damage to property fronting on the erstwhile broadwalk and bulkhead, have caused property owners to wonder whether the proposed jetty construction would accomplish the results expected from it.

A. L. Sonderger, employed by the city at a fee of $50 a day to tell the citizens what to do to save their property from the sea, advised that 200 foot jetties be built along the shore at a distance of 200 feet from the bulkhead. In progress, but the tide of today ripped out some of the jetties as if they had been made of soft sand.

The purpose of the jetty construction was to deter the ocean from cutting the shore line and to assist in returning the recent floods, which they had stolen. It is still believed the jetties will accomplish this, and the city has expressed to the City Trustees satisfaction that the jetty plan has been adopted.

Following the recent floods, which caused the canals to overflow and caused considerable inconvenience to such country residents as the City Trustees authorized the president to appoint a committee to discuss with Los Angeles city and county officials the necessity for the organization of a drainage district to care for the waters which follow the old Ballona creek bed in time of excessive rain. It is still believed the jetties will accomplish this, and the city has expressed to the City Trustees satisfaction that the jetty plan has been adopted.

Following the recent floods, which caused the canals to overflow and caused considerable inconvenience to such country residents as the City Trustees authorized the president to appoint a committee to discuss with Los Angeles city and county officials the necessity for the organization of a drainage district to care for the waters which follow the old Ballona creek bed in time of excessive rain.

Many thousands have been received by the Board of Supervisors for the building of a good road in Santa Ana Canyon. The road is to be built by the Riverside county line. The bid was referred to the County Highway Commission.

BIGGER OFFICE NEEDED. Federal Government Posts Notice Asking for Proposals for New Postal Quarters.—News in Brief.

UPLAND, Feb. 11.—The Federal government has posted notice in the Upland postoffice to the effect that additional space is needed for the use of the building of the local postoffice, this being occasioned by the great increase in the business of the office. The department asks for quarters with not less than 2400 square feet of floor space, a building six stories high, with a full basement, and with a full range of conveniences, and bids for the furnishing of the building. The estimated cost of the building is $100,000. The present office is located in the Ruddy building, on West Ninth street, and has been, for some time past, entirely inadequate to the needs of the office.

WILL BREAK ALL RECORDS.

Orange Prospects Announce a Split of Hope in the Breasts of Ontario Growers.

ONTARIO, Feb. 11.—That the orange crop of the Ontario district will this year break all former records is the prediction today following the most careful estimates by Harry R. Harlow, manager of the O. K. Fruit Exchange, comprising eleven packing-houses in this section, and by managers of an equal number of independent concerns here.

The most conservative estimate the citrus crop of the Ontario district at 4500 cars, and many place the figure as high as 5000 cars.

The O. K. Exchange has already shipped more than 200 cars of oranges and expects to ship something like 2500 more before the close of the season. At the present time about 200 cars are going East daily from the exchange packing-houses of the Southland and of this number cars and day are from this district. Independent concerns in this district estimate that the year at the end of 1913 and 1900 cars.

The packing-houses are at present experiencing a season in which many years, and hundreds of thousands of work by last winter's frost are again given employment.

While very fair prices for oranges are now being received, many Ontario growers are holding their fruit for a later market. Growers who are particularly good for the late market since it has been demonstrated time and again that fruit may be kept in good condition on the tree in Ontario district longer than in any other section, and the prices obtainable for this number of cars are marketed are decidedly attractive.

The fruit was never in better condition as to coloring, flavor and general texture than this year, according to citrus men. It has not once been necessary to smudge on account of frost this year in this section, and orange men generally agree that all danger from cold is past.

GOOD ROADS. At a meeting favoring the proposed county good roads bond to be voted on February 17, held at Cucamonga Monday night, a thrill was added to the enthusiastic meeting by John and Henry Klusman, well-to-do ranchers of that section. John was the only man in the hall who opposed the bond, and Henry, who supported the voters, took him to task. A lively word duel ensued and it seemed as if they must continue the fight.

George Klusman, a third brother, rose from the rear of the hall, announced that he was backing both sides, and Henry and could "lick" them both. The hall fairly rocked with merriment and fratricide was averted.

A delegation from Ontario, including Mayor W. A. Freeman, Glenn D. Smith, president of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, and Henry Allen and J. B. Draper attended. The sentiment in the foothill settlement strongly favors the proposed bonds.

FAVORS OPEN-DOOR POLICY. Santa Monica Mayor Vetoes Ordinance Which Would Practically Shut Out Competition.

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 11.—Mayor Dudley yesterday vetoed the ordinance, passed by the new Council, which attempted to shut out all competitors from the beach. He thinks the way should be kept open for other lines to enter if they wish, and is opposed to the Ruddy building, on West Ninth street, and has been, for some time past, entirely inadequate to the needs of the office.

Great plans are being laid to make the celebration of the anniversary of the founding of Venice. The celebration will be held Saturday night, when for the first time electric energy will be used in the celebration. The celebration will be held at the residence of the late Mrs. McManis, 1015 West Ninth street, and will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. S. S. Sampson. Interment will be in Bellevue cemetery. Mrs. McManis was a native of Montana and had resided in Upland some three years. Her death resulted from lockjaw, following blood poisoning. She was 40 years of age and had four children.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.] PASADENA, Feb. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The new Century Club which met last night at the home of former Judge William A. Spill, No. 1122 North Los Robles avenue, to discuss "Shadow Skirts and Problem Plays," before it adjourned unanimously adopted a motion "that the club go on record as favoring more simplicity in the dress of our school children and more modesty in the dress of our women."

No one opposed the motion, but there was, however, a wide difference of opinion on the subject in the sentiments expressed by about a dozen speakers.

There is no reason why women should not wear trousers, for that matter. But how ridiculous it would be. Others said that women have a mind of their own and that they are not to dress like men, no matter what more man may say. S. W. Odell said that to his mind the hobbie skirt had been fashioned

REPORTERS ADMITTED. Santa Ana Court Excludes Public, but Permits Writers to Remain. News Notes. SANTA ANA, Feb. 11.—Though granting an order to close the doors of the courtroom during the progress of a divorce trial today, Superior Judge Thomas refused to exclude newspaper reporters. He said that he doubted that on any occasion ever closing the doors of a divorce court against the public, that if men and women will take their marital troubles to court, the light of publicity should be turned on.

The case on trial was that of George Ellis, a Garden Grove rancher, against Edith Ellis, who is an attorney. Ellis said that until he married the woman in 1909 he did not drink and had not smoked enough tobacco to make a cigarette. Mrs. Ellis insisted that he had been drinking and smoking since he was a boy. His accusation was that she became intoxicated and had caused the divorce. The case is expected to continue tomorrow.
